I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

We must not overlook history, in our astonishment over revelations of communist infiltration into key government positions.

A year ago I wrote of the communist connections of the head of the Conciliation Service. One of my Washington friends took me to tack. I should remember, he said, that during the days of the New Deal (that Americanized edition of National Socialism) it was not considered a liability to have communist learnings. It was helpful in getting a job, or a promotion. He said, some organizations, now recognized as communist fronts, were not so considered in Washington.

Our California Congressman, Richard Nixon, of Whittier, has been home speaking in this area. I heard him in Yorba Linda, where he was born, and in Santa Ana, and in Los Angeles, where he held a thousand men and women motionless for an hour, with documented evidences from the Committee's files.

These communists are not the small fry with whom we, in agriculture, have been familiar. These were the leaders in an espionage movement to take confidential documents from the locked files of the United States, and sell them to Russia.

These men and women held jobs paying over $5000 a year; most of them at the top government salary of $10,000. When Elizabeth Bentley took her story to the F.B.I. every material detail checked. Under their eyes, she received $2000 from a man she knew only as "Al," and gave him material received from these government sources.

The F.B.I. knew "Al" as Anatole Gromas, first secretary of the Russian Embassy. As Mr. Nixon puts it, the Russians were not paying $2000 for rumors, and $2000 is a high price to pay for herring, pickled, boiled, or red,

The late President, and the present President, as well as the Attorney General, have known this situation for three years. They have done nothing about it. Like Dr. Faust, one does not sell one's soul to Mephistopheles and then renig on the bargain. The New Deal could not take communist support, advice, technical help, and leadership, and then throw this help overboard when the facts became public.

I am interested in Congressman Nixon's suggested solutions. In the executive branch, to clean house. The easiest way to keep commies out of government is still not to appoint them. In the legislative arm, to strengthen the laws and to give publicity to such activities. At home, to tell what communism really is: of slave labor, of poverty, of suppression of all rights and freedoms; to tell that we are strong and free in America only because of one unique form of government, unlike any other.

Does that strike a note in your memory? In 1936, I spoke before the School Trustees' Association. I told them to teach the truth about communism in the California schools. The corporation lobbyists who were opposing me in my race for the Senate, issued a circular, saying I had advocated teaching communism in the schools!

Today, twelve years later, the solution recommended to stop the communist movement, which we now know reached the White House itself, is to teach the TRUTH about communism in the schools of California.

I rise only to remark, Amen!

New Gas Range For Fire House

The new fire station in Cypress, which has been under construction for a little over six months, is having the finishing touches added and will soon be completed, at which time it is expected that an open house will be held.

Tuesday the firemen installed two sirens on the tower in the rear of the station. The flag pole was also moved from its old location and set in position at the new site. On the interior of the building, floors are being waxed, and a new gas range has been installed.

A permanent resident at the firehouse in the living quarters provided will be "Barney" Barnhart, who will answer the calls which come in at night.

HAWAIIAN GARDENS HAS UP - TO - DATE POOL HALL

Improvements made at Leavell's pool hall, in Hawaiian Gardens, include a 4 x 8 neon sign which was installed recently, and black topping the parking space provided for the convenience of customers.

Seth H. Leavell, owner, has been at his present location for over a year—across from the auction yard. The facilities include four new Brunswick tables for pool and snooker, and a twenty-two foot shuffleboard, besides a lunch counter.

Alamitos Pleased With Town's First Festival

There were plenty of festivities for visitors at the first annual fall festival sponsored by the Los Alamitos Business association last weekend. The three-day affair began with the opening of the carnival on Friday evening.

Saturday, when the sun was hot, the grounds were packed, and during the parade of more than 100 children and their pets in the afternoon there was a large gathering to watch the community's first attempt a such an event.

First prize money of $5 went to Danny Tischler, 3, who rode in a covered toy wagon pulled by a goat and trailed by a collie dog wearing a hat. Second prize of $3 went to Gerald Hawkins, with a pig in a cage; third prize of $2 to Darrell Bazzell and Janet Willoby with a cat in a cage. Five prizes of $1 each went to Jean and Rosemary Randall, Mary Lou Watkins, Tommy Curry and Marilyn Moore.

Barbecue dinners were served all Sunday afternoon, diners finding tables set up in a four-car garage where they were sheltered from the weather, yet could watch festivities outside. It was reported that the committee enjoyed a sell-out on the steaks provided for the barbecue.

Auxiliary Members To Local V.F.W. On Hospital Visit

Five members of the auxiliary to the Cypress Post No. 9847 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars were initiated Monday into some of the many activities connected with hospital work and entertainment that the organization accomplishes for hospitalized and disabled veterans in the various veterans' and naval hospitals in the United States. They were co-hostesses with the auxiliary to the Ernest B. Kellogg Post No. 1680 at Santa Ana, and visited Brentwood recreation hall and hospital, a part of Sawtelle Veterans' hospital.

President Dorothy Smith, Mary Ellen St. Claire, Margaret Dye, Ann Lucas and Della Priddy, loaded down with a variety of 60 dozen homemade cookies which were generously donated by all the members of the Cypress auxiliary, met the Santa Ana group at Anaheim. From there the entire group proceeded to Sawtelle, arriving at 12:30 in the afternoon.

Since it was a regular hospital day for the Santa Anans, the visiting Cypress contingent was shown around the various sections of Sawtelle, and learned to a certain extent of some of the work in which the local organization will be expected to participate in the future.

First stop was the library, where the girls from Santa Ana left approximately 500 magazines and other material. Then the hobby shops were visited, to deposit many articles of odds and ends that seemingly have no value, such as old leather purses, colorful felt hats, cameras, clocks, odd earrings, old jewelry, and many other articles which are subsequently made into many useful and lovely objects by the veterans and sold for their benefit. Next stop was Wadsworth general hospital, where stacks of bed-pads, which had been made by the Santa Ana auxiliary sewing circle during the past month from old sheets, newspapers and absorbent cotton, were left with the Veterans Administration, and also canes, for the not too sturdy ambulatory patients.

A social-time was then enjoyed from 1:30 to 3:30 at the Brentwood recreation center for around 100 ambulatory patients, who were entertained with a bingo party, as other members threaded their ways throughout the tables passing out candy, cigarettes, and chewing gum. At three o'clock refreshments were served consisting of cookies, fruit punch and ice cream. The remainder of the refreshments and goodies were then distributed to bed patients in several wards at Brentwood.

The Cypress visitors left Sawtelle a tired, but happy group, knowing that it had left behind many a lighter heart, made even lighter with a bright smile, a cheery hello and a few treats, and vowing to earn a reputation in the future to equal that earned by members of the auxiliary to post No. 1680 in Santa Ana for its hospital work and other activities in the past.

Public Invited To Hawaiian Gardens Gymkhana Sunday

The Hawaiian Gardens Gymkhana will be held Sunday, October 24, one block east of Norwalk boulevard on Carson avenue. The Carefree Riders are to be the host club.

Scores of riding groups, organizations and individuals have indicated their intentions to take part in the competitive games on horses that the Gymkhana provides.

Competition has been divided into two divisions. The junior events will start at 10 a.m. Riders under 14 years of age will take part in stake, barrel, run, ride and lead races, and musical chairs.

Grand entry will take place at 1:00 p.m. with the afternoon events to follow. The afternoon schedule includes competition in stock and trail horse classes and stake, rescue, barrel, potato and pony express races for adult riders.

Features of the Gymkhana will be the many fine horses and their riders entered in the Grand Entry, the exciting competitive games on horses and a mounted square dance to be put on by the Rythm Riders of Westminster.

One of the fine horses entered is the horse, owned and ridden by Ernest Specht of Bell Gardens, "King Cortez."

And to complete the day's entertainment there is to be a Western Dance at the Quon-Sut Dance Hall, 11915 Carson at 8:30 p.m. Music by the famous Cliffie Stone and orchestra.

Proceeds of the day are to be used for the Hawaiian Gardens fire station. Official sponsor of the Gymkhana and the big Western Dance is the Hawaiian Garden's Business Men and Civic Club.

Mrs. R. J. Edwards Is Hostess At Noon Luncheon

Neighbors in the 5400 block on Camp street, Cypress, surprised Mrs. George Holetz with a noon luncheon, October 14, at the home of Mrs. Ray J. Edwards.

A miscellaneous housewarming shower provided the afternoon entertainment, timely in the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Holetz celebrated their wedding anniversary October 18, and are nearing the completion of their permanent home after 3 years' residence here.

The program made by the Holetz family is typical of "modern pioneering" practiced by many in these suburban communities. Inexperienced in the art of building, he and two friends have constructed a fine five-room modern home, complete with porches. Even experienced builders can appreciate the challenge of such a project performed "after hours."

Guests at the luncheon included the honoree, Mesdames Charles Colvin, Mabelle Dyer, Helen Ronan, K. B. Kemp, James Moss, Garrett Plantinga, Phil Birchof, K. M. Howery, and Mrs. Al Mac Avan from Anaheim besides the hostess.

Triplets Daddy Is Heard Over KNX Wednesday Night

Larry, Lynn and Lyle, the now famous Cypress triplets, were represented on the radio program, "Free for all" over KNX on Wednesday evening at 8:30 p.m. by their father, George B. Weigert.

Those who heard the program stated that Weigert caried on nobly for his little family over the air and the long list of useful gifts included a washing machine for the family, three high chairs for the babies, besides a very adequate supply of snap-on diapers running into numbers by the dozens—and, for the father a new suit of clothes and a big doll for the triplet's two-year old sister. Among all the gifts presented, however, there did not seem to be one for "mama."

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bakker are celebrating their tenth wedding anniversary by re-visiting scenes of their first honeymoon. They will visit in Las Vegas where they were married, and in northern Nevada and California before returning home.

For those who have had occasion to approach Hollywood on La Brea avenue, day or night, and have been suddenly thrilled by the view which lies before them, the accompanying picture of Hollywood in 1890 will be an interesting contrast. Presented by the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, it shows a few farmhouses and vast undeveloped territory, approximately two years after the group was organized to lead the southland out of depression and to work for balanced economy.

County Organizations To Handle Concessions On Fair Midway

Stressing again that the Orange County Fair is for Orange County people and will be run by them, H. Clay Kellogg, president of the fair board announced that all concessions on the midway will be operated by county service clubs and organizations, fraternal orders and civic groups.

The Orange County Women's Post of the American Legion, La Habra 20-30 Club, Anaheim V.F.W., Santa Ana City Employees' Association, the LULACS, V.F.W. Auxiliary of La Habra, Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce, Placentia Lions Club, and the Optimist Club of Anaheim are a few of the organizations which have already signed to run the midway concessions, according to Frank Mason, of Santa Ana, who is in charge of the fair midway. However, there is still good space available for concession.

"Ordinarily, in most district and county fairs, professionals handle the concessions," stated Mr. Mason. "But at our Orange County Fair, the money will not go out of the community. We could get bigger profits by selling to professionals, but in line with our purpose of creating a real old-fashioned fair, for and by Orange County people, we prefer to have all the concessions operated by our local people."

All rides on the 350-foot long midway will be priced at 20c for adults and 9c for children under 12 years of age. A special "Kiddieland" will be devoted to rides exclusively for the younger children. These include a small chair plane, real steam train, a small airplane ride, a live pony ride, small auto ride and Totsville Trolley, a small street-car with simulated controls. These will be priced at 9c at all times. On the adult rides, prices for children under 12 years will be reduced to 9c until 6:00 p.m.

IT'S BEING SAID -- IN CYPRESS

That we haven't ridden in all the trucks around town, yet, but kind-hearted purveyors of transportation have given us "lifts" on a couple of occasions. About the only difference we find between the R & G Ready-Mix and Harvey's dump truck is that the running board step to the mixer is a mite higher off the ground. There is no comparison in comfort—if a thing is red, it can't be redder; if a seat is hard, it can't be harder! We rather imagine our rival, for title of most gaudy car in town, the cleaner's red truck, has the softest seat. Don't whisper it near the temperamental "yellow demon", but what we really covet in the way of transportation is that neat little "banty" job in front of Sandy's service.

That every time we take a ride around Cypress manor we are amazed at the little changes and touches which give personality to so many of the residences there. Many of them look like models out of "Better homes and gardens", "Homes beautiful" or magazines of the same ilk. It takes real ingenuity to give indiviuality to homes built so closely together. We just ran out of adjectives, but we bet it will be fun at Christmastime, when these property-holders decorate in keeping with the yule-tide spirit.

That the legendary circus lady, she of the "pink tights', is no longer a mythical character in Cypress, although she is a "myth." That is, if you lisp. She is Connie Conrey, and she is in southern California because the circus of which she is a member is wintering in El Monte. We can forgive her trying to find Charlie La Mont, who used to work with the same acrobatic artists, but Connie, you must learn that Cypress is just a little town, and try to get along without taxicabs and gymnasiums while you're here, and remember the advice that while in Rome, live as the Romans do.

That even though we asked a question at the end of our editorial last week, we really didn't expect an answer. The reaction of the partners in the hardware store was to attack our example, since they are salesmen for a very fine automatic washer, the advertising for which appears at intervals in this newspaper and stresses a "water saver" rather than to view the subject in its entirety and the underlying principle that there is a shortage of water and power, and that lots of water is being wasted in a variety of ways. Foster swears he'll sell us the "right kind" of automatic washer to prove his point about the "water saver." Haskell Kelley came into the office to comment that it was time more people awoke to the fact that there isn't enough water. He pointed out that during the war, when materials and labor were scarce, the provision for water at its source was neglected, a matter which has not yet been corrected. Although we don't recall having been aware of this matter in our reading before, our eyes fell on two articles this week concerning this problem. One, from Long Beach, states that its water-saving campaign was a success, and that waste was cut to a safe level, because "early in the season the board of water commissioners appealed to consumers to use water in reasonable amounts and not to waste any of it . . . A similar water conservation program will be promoted by the department next summer." The other news story, from Santa Ana, was with regard to enforcement of the water law. The district attorney's office advised that ordinance No. 399 prohibits water waste by anyone, even farmers. We aren't sure just where all this information will lead us, except that we didn't receive word from any soap manufacturers, which must prove we kept to a "clean" subject.

That we knew all the time the Los Coyotes market was going to move into one of the new buildings at Lincoln avenue and Miller road, and not Miller and Hansen, as previously reported. It's more fun to mix people up, making a corner out of parallel roads! That's our story, and we're stuck with it.

The publicity director for the local post of the Veterans of Foriegn Wars, Carl Markel, has announced a special meeting on Thursday evening, October 28, in the school cafeteria. All members of the Cypress post and the auxiliary are urged to be present. The VFW meetings in November will be on the first and third Thursdays of the month.

Parade Will Feature Vets Day Observance

The big parade of Orange County Veterans organizations November 11, in Santa Ana, will be joined by active uniformed units of the Marine Corps, California National Guard and other units of the military, the committee of the Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion announced today. These three organizations have joined in the county-wide celebration representing every city and area of the county, as a tribute to the patriotism of their community.

The theme of observance will be "PEACE THROUGH PREPAREDNESS."

"Our Veterans Day observance will be the biggest patriotic demonstration in the history of Orange County," Chairman Lucas said. "There will be many fine marching units of the DAV., VFW., and American Legion, bands from our high schools, the state champion San Gabriel Drum and Bugle Corps, and the state champion Santa Ana No. 1680 V.F.W. Drum and Bugle Corps, and of course, the armed services will be there with their very fine bands."

As "Queen of the Day," the committee has reserved a place of honor for Mrs. Emma Christensen of Tustin, Orange County's First Gold Star Mother. Of her four sons who served in World Wars 1 and 2, George, a marine, died in battle June 16, 1918, and a second, Norman died from effects of poison gas in 1936. Two other sons also served in war: Bryan, a Navy man in World War 1, now lives in Bakersfield, and a fourth son, Harold, World War 2, is still in the Army Air Corps in Tokyo.

Warren To Speak In Anaheim's Greek Theater

Gov. Earl Warren will be in Orange county Saturday, October 30, for a speech at Anaheim's Greek Theater, it was announced today by Mrs. Lelia Eastman, chairman of the Orange County Dewey-Warren Campaign Committee.

Plans for a motor cavalcade made up of civic and county leaders to escort the Republican vice-presidential candidate from Laguna Beach through Santa Ana to Anaheim are being made by Mrs. Eastman and Mrs. Florence Stevens and Robert Banyard who are assisting in the arrangements.

Gov. Warren's speech will be at 10:00 a.m. at the Greek Theater in Anaheim City Park, where he will be greeted by Mayor Charles Pearson.

First Meeting Success Held By School P-T.A.

Starting the current year's activities, the local P-T.A. met in its first regular meeting on last Thursday evening, with a large number of members and guests present. The topic adopted for discussion this year was announced by Mrs. Louis Wlaschin, in the absence of the program chairman, Mrs. Frank Noe, as being "Planning and biulding for timorrow in a complex world." The theme for October, "Cooperation in the community," was divided into three lines of thought. Introduced by Mrs. Wlaschin, the Reverend Eric Jorden, pastor of the Nazarene church, explained the relationship which exists between church and community cooperation by recalling that originally the school was founded within the church's jurisdiction. However, times and education have changed, until today the church alone is the chief teacher of moral and spiritual values and takes a definite stand for right against wrong. The Reverend Mr. Jorden believes that selfishness is the root cause of difficulties in the world, and so the church teaches all it reaches to get along, one with the other, and he based his assertion on the scripture which says to "love God supremely, and thy neighbor as thyself."

Presenting the subject from the viewpoint of the parent, Richard V. Hathcock discussed what the home expects from the school, believing that first of all the school should provide the child with an education—in the form of book learning. He stressed the fact that the school is expected to teach the child to think, and also how to study. He believes this should be accomplished by an impartiality on the part of the teacher toward the pupils, and that they should not inflict personal prejudices in the thinking of their pupils—politically, socially, or in religion. Hathcock added that character building and health training were expected at school, and also brought out the fact that parents trusted the same protection of their children while in school as they received in the home.

Miss Elizabeth Dickerson principal, concluded the topical discussion by defining the word "cooperation," and saying that the school's goal was to build for the future, to make a well-rounded individual of each child and provide it with a feeling of security with which to take its place in the community.

Miss Dickerson introduced her teaching staff: Mrs. Clarissa Higgins, kindergarten; Geraldyne Perrin and Mrs. Dorthea Mitchell, first grades; Miss Wanda Armour and Mrs. Blanche Barton, second grades; Miss Elizabeth Jones and Miss Mae Turpin, third grades; Miss Mildred Dean, fifth grade; Mrs. Lois Lissner, sixth grade; Mrs. Henrietta Arnold, fifth and sixth grades; Leonard Rowe, seventh grade; Paul Winsor, eighth grade and Mrs. Dodley Harper, music. Mrs. Wlaschin presented a corsage of lovely gardenias to each of the women as she acknowledged her introduction, and carnation boutonnieres to the two men teachers.

A clever skit was presented to the group as a curtain-raiser to the program which was entitled "John Q. Public," and the eighth grade students taking part sought to convince the audience through the medium of the playlet of the importance of going to the polls to vote on November second.

Because the next regular meeting night of the organization falls on November 11, which is Armistice Day, it was announced that the date will be set forward a week On Thursday evening, November fourth, the P-T.A. will be hosts at an open house in the schoolhouse, and the new buildings will be open for inspection. Also appearing on the program will be John Hayes, assistant superintendent of schools, who will exemplify the theme of study for the year by speaking on the subject, "The school helps us build."

Mrs. John Lukens, elected to serve as this year's president of the P-T.A., very ably conducted the business meeting, after first introducing the officers who will serve with her, Mrs. Louis Wlaschin, vice-president; Mrs. Richard V. Hathcock, secretary, and Mrs. George T. Alleman, treasurer. She announced committee chairmen as follows: Hospitality, Mrs. Luther Head; membership, Mrs. Gerald Kelley; publicity, Mrs. Victor Konig; ways and means, Mrs. Arnold Holborow and Mrs. Jack Junker; and health Mrs. M. R. Bouse.

Volunteers were called upon to act as room mothers for the coming school year and resulted in a number of mothers responding, although the list as a whole was incomplete.

Room count resulted in the first and third grades and sixth grade receiving the figurines to keep in their room until the next meeting.

The membership chairman announced 237 members to date with the sixth grade in the lead in the membership derby. The drive was extended for two days into the following week.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served in the lunch room by Mrs. Head and her committee during the social hour, which concluded the meeting and reception of teachers.

Figures From White Gold Day Reveal A Satisfactory Profit

An exact compilation of figures since White gold day on September 18, which celebration was staged in the interests of adding to the fund of the Cypress Recreational Park, Inc., shows a profit this year of $2,370.63. These figures were released this week by the group's secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Pauline Flynn.

The sums received from the various activities are as follows: fish pond, $25.29; auction, $927; hamburgers, $91.51; television, $618.29; jail, $38.10; grocery booth, $47.78; snow cones, $13.58; train rides, $9.33; bull pen, $15.66; airplane rides, $25.95; soda booth, $31.80; cue ball booth, $29.05; Wilsey dairy, $9.82; ring pitch game, $64.63; bingo, $447.49; fortune teller, $6.80; cake and pie, $61.62; fancy work, $75.73; ice cream, $35.53; candy, $139.49; coffee, $49.35; pop corn, $44.44; combined dart, coke, fish pond, cokes & novelty booths $109.08; donation, $15; or a total of $3,214.42 received.

Expenses were listed as follows: stamps, $2; envelopes, 92c; badges and ribbons, $50; stencils, $6.41; postage on buttons, $1.03; paper for floats, $11.53; speaking system, $55; hauling, $48; horse show; $50; sign painting, $70.45; labor on signs, $12; Jones decorating co., $80.25; searchlite rental $47.50; queen's float, $20.90; queen contest, $90.79; wiring and misc., $80.03; advertising, paper and postage, $44.66; lumber, $67.88; trophies and cups, $99.50; vaudeville, $25; of these expenses $110.92 is considered a capital investment in materials which can be used again next year. The total expenditures amounted to $843.79, leaving the figure $2,370.63 to show as this year's profit.

WHAT TIME IS IT?

Nowadays, there isn't anything very complicated about the time of day. Most of the year the country runs on Standard Time, and during the summer a large section of it moves the hands ahead an hour and switches to Daylight Saving Time. As we cross the nation, the time zones change at established intervals, and in all cases the change is one hour. It's simple enough.

But it wasn't always that way—and it might not be that way yet if it hadn't been for the railroads. Sixty-five years ago Standard Time didn't exist. Every town had its own time, and so, even, did many business concerns. Railroad stations held a confusing series of clocks—each line used the time in effect where its home office was located. Matters went to such lengths, as an example, that in Pittsburgh there were six different times in use. Few people knew what time it really was. You couldn't be sure when an appointment was scheduled unless, by lucky chance, the person you were to meet used the same time you did!

The railroads realized that something had to be done to bring order out of this chaos. The hundreds of different times in effect throughout the country were a constant and growing headache. The movement to standardize time began in 1872. And eleven years later, on November 18, 1883, every railroad clock was stopped at a given hour. When they started again, Standard Time, with its four time zones, was a going concern in the United States. It was gradually accepted by the people, and 35 years later Congress recognized Standard Time and made it official. The railroads had foreseen an important national need, and through voluntary agreements they furnished a workable solution.

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY

This week the date of October 16 stands out in our history review. It marked both the beginning and the end of certain phases of World War II.

On October 16, 1940, some 16 million Americans began to sign up for the first peace time draft in our history. This was the first step toward organizing our manpower for the war that was to be thrust upon us a little more than a year later.

On October 16, 1946, the finale was staged at the Nuremberg prison for 11 of Hitler's henchmen who had plotted and attempted to carry out the scheme for world conquest. Ten of them were hanged in the dark hours before dawn. The eleventh — Hermann Goering — beat the noose by committing suicide shortly before he was to go to the gallows. He took a poison capsule which he had succeeded in concealing during the 17 months he was in prison.

The final score on the top Nazis was this: Five committed suicide — these included Hitler, Goebbels, Goering, Ley and Himmler; Martin Bormann, Hitler's right hand man, is presumed dead; ten were hanged; seven were sent to prison for terms ranging from ten years to life; three were freed.

October 16, thus marked the first chapter of World War II for 16 million young Americans and it marked the final chapter of World War II for the men who had launched that conflict.

PROPOSITIONS

On the ballot November 2. A short summary of each Proposition with recommendations on how to vote by the editor and publisher of the Buena Park News, Paul Kroesen. All of the nineteen questions will be printed before the election.

No. 6 Regulation of Commercial Fishing (Intitiative Statute)

This proposal prohibits the use of nets, traps, set lines, or other applicances in commercial fishing in fish and game district in which San Francisco Bay and tributary and connecting bays and streams are situated for purposes of establishing such waters as recreational fishing areas. It excepts commercial fishing for crabs, clams, oysters and certain other named varieties. It also prohibits the possession of nets, traps, and set lines in such areas, with certain exceptions of Clear Lake and Lake Almanor.

No. 6—No recommendation—This proposition poses a question which is beyond the scope of the average voter to determine. Highly technical data on fish production over a period of years, the rate of depletion in coastal waters and the need for commercial fishing must be considered and should be decided after careful study by legislative processes.

No. 7. Residence of Voters (ACA 32)

This measure increases from 40 to 54 days the period required for a person to reside in a precinct to qualify as an elector; it would allow 14 additional days for checking and preparing election data.

No. 7—VOTE YES—The time elapsing between closing registrations and election is so short that clerks have to add extra helpers and pay overtime wages to get ready for election. The change would in no way alter a person's voting privilege and would save him money.

No. 8. Superior Judges, Vacancies (ACA 11)

At present a vacancy in a superior court judgeship is filled temporarily by an appointee of the Governor and then by election at the next succeeding general state election after the occurance of the vacancy. The change proposed is that the vacancy would be filled at the next general state election following the first of January instead of the first of April. This is to allow more adequate time before the primary election, which was recently changed from August to June.

No. 8—Vote YES—Another example of a change necessary owing to alteration of time involved.

No. 9. Succession to Governorship (ACA 14)

This provision sets up provisions for succession to the governorship in case of death or disability of the Governor-elect.

It is proposed to prevent a situation such as arose in Georgia recently.

No. 9—VOTE YES—Insurance against a state scandal such as occured in Georgia. May never be needed but takes care of the eventuality.

No. 10. Initiatives (ACA 2)

This proposal prohibits the submission to the electors of any initiative constitutional amendment or initiative statute embracing more than one subject. Although this measure is aimed at such omnibus proposals as the "Bill of Rights" (off ballot by Supreme Court action), it does not apply to the November, 1948, Ballot.

No. 10—VOTE YES—One of the weak points in both state and federal legislaitve procedures has been the tendancy to hide objectionable laws by tacking them on others which get strong popular support. Since one cannot be passed without the other, the one objected to rides in on the popularity of the other. This proposition eliminates this weakness at least as far as constitutional statutes and amendments are concerned.

No. 11. Municipal Charters (ACA 18)

This proposal would clarify the present constitutional provision for submitting new proposed charters at special or general elections by adding "municipal elections."

It also makes a change relating to the borough form of government to provide that once such boroughs are established they may not be modified, amended, or abridged without approval of a majority of the voters in the borough.

This measure is particularly designed for Los Angeles City which is considering a borough form of government. The provision clarifying the reference to charter amendments was accidentally dropped by a prior constitutional amendment.

No. 11—VOTE YES—If and when a borough system is set up to provide more local administration of government in suburban centers, it would form a very necessary protection for those communities in avoiding restrictive charter amendments imposed from higher municipal heads.

No. 12. Local Control of Intoxicating Liquors (Initiative Const. Amend.)

This proposal would permit communities to have control over the licensing of the sale of intoxicating liquors. It was initiated by the "dry" forces and would remove the control over liquor sales from the State Board of Equalization in those places where the voters approved local option.

No. 12—VOTE YES—Sets up local control in that it lets the people decide whether they shall have retail liquor establishments in their town or not.

TRAVELOGUE

Written by W. C. Miller, former publisher of West Orange County publishing company.

Leaving Grasshopper valley we climbed out over a high ridge of mountains and then down, down into another of Montana's great valleys. On our way down into the valley we passed through one of the state's great cattle ranches. For miles and miles we passed through the higher ranges and then we came to the home ranch. Arranged out in front of the home and near the highway was a display of the ranch's modes of travel over the years. First was the old covered wagon, high bows, ox yokes and all. Then came the lighter wagons, the carriages, double and single, the sleighs, single and family, and then there was the old air cooled Franklin and the side-wind Oldsmobile. I suppose somewhere there was a cadillac and an airplane.

Leaving the ranch house, we soon dropped down into the valley proper. Crossing the Red Rock river, we were in the beautiful little city of Dillon. This is one of the state's prettier cities with beautiful business buildings and tree lined streets. We were surprised to be able to obtain calf's liver for 35 cents a pound in one of the modern markets and was it good liver! The next time we priced liver it was 95 cents. We followed the Red Rock through a picturesque canyon onto a plain which turned into a desert. We passed out of Montana at Monida Pass.

We were really in a desert in Idaho for many miles. We finally approached Idaho Falls and the desert turned into gardens. After crossing the desert, Idaho Falls was a welcome sight. The city was a beehive of activity and we were glad to be on our way which lead through villages and fields and ranches until we reached Blackfoot. The sun was beating down with considerable force and we turned west and struck directly across the desert again. We could see the mountains fifty-five miles in the distance. Of interest was the slow approach of the mountains. We finally reached the base of the rather forboding barrier and found the quaint little village of Arco nestled in a little cove. A river came out of the mountains and there were acres upon acres of meadows and cows and calves and contentment.

The highway turned southward and kept to the low shoulders of the mountains. Soon our meadows and fields were driven out by another sort of river; a river of rock. Some time in the past there had been a great flow of lava that reached far out in the desert. The highway kept away from this ancient river for some nineteen miles and then there was a new river, or was it the Devil's last stand? There was an entire ocean of turbulent cooled hell. There were thirty-five cinder cones that reached hundreds of feet skyward. The cinders were so fresh that one stepped gingerly for fear that they were still hot. There were hundreds of volcano pits with the molten rock still dripping back into the pit.

These pits were still open to unknown depths; some forty feet beneath the surface each pit was filled with ice and snow. We pulled into the Craters Of The Moon camp ground and pitched our tent upon what had once been a living hell. We cooked and ate our dinner much in silence for the place had an awesome spell upon you. After dinner we climbed to the top of one of the cinder cones and watched the sun on a sea that was awe inspiring.

Your, Sargum Sprout.

Anaheim Canteen On Bus Schedule Alternate Fridays

An unusual opportunity has been arranged for Cypress school seventh and eighth graders who are eligible to attend the teen-agers "canteen" in Anaheim on Friday nights. Miss Elizabeth Dickerson announced during the P-T.A. meeting last Thursday evening that every other Friday night the school bus driver has consented to cooperate with the program by taking the children in the school bus, which will leave the school at seven o'clock, but will deliver the children to their homes upon conclusion of the supervised activities provided by the canteen. This arrangement is for every other Friday evening and began last week. The next trip to the canteen will be Friday evening, October 29. About thirty boys and girls benefited from the arrangement the first time it was undertaken.

FULL LENGTH MOVIES FOR UPPER GRADES AT CYPRESS SCHOOL

The school has announced that full length moving pictures will again be offered for the enjoyment and education of the upper grade classes for the small sum of 15c admission, according to Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, principal. This week's movie, "Chata," will be shown Friday afternoon. The next film will be announced when it is made available in November, and notices will be sent home. The school bus will take those children home who do not stay for the picture. The schedule for the lower grades remains the same.

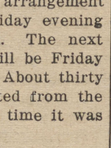
KIDDIES HALLOWE'EN PARADE TO BE STAGED IN ANAHEIM THIS YEAR

Plans for celebrating the various aspects of the Hallowe'en season have been arranged by the officials of the Cypress elementary school. Because of the "Kiddies' parade" in Anaheim, in which all school children are eligible to participate, an "apportionment day" has been declared for Friday, October 29. The primary grades will be out at one o'clock, and the upper grades at 1:30. Parents may pick children up at the school, if going to the parade. Grade room parties will be held prior to the dismissal of school, with upper grades holding theirs from 12:30 until 1:30 and primary grades from 12:30 until noon.

The parade in Anaheim is on a competitive basis, and first, second and third cash and ribbon awards are offered for the following: most beautiful costume, most original costume, most comical costume, best bike outfit, ten special awards, and the best division. The event is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock, and will start on Sycamore street at the city park and continue north to the Orange county fairgrounds.

Following the parade the Kiddies show of vaudeville and circus acts will be staged on the fair grounds at 3:30 p.m.

Are YOU Going Thru CHANGE of LIFE?



causing you to suffer from HOT FLUSHES?

Does the functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women (38-52 yrs.) make you suffer from hot flushes, feel so nervous, high-strung, irritable, weak? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this!

Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such 'middle-age' distress. It's what Doctors call a uterine sedative. It positively contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. Pinkham's Compound helps nature (you know what we mean).

It's also a great stomachic tonic! Any drugstore.

Mrs. Georgia Hickman, accompanied by her mother and sister-in-law, spent Sunday at Mt. Wilson.

Little Sharon Ann Smith was a happy little hostess last Saturday afternoon when 26 of her little friends were invited to help her celebrate her seventh birthday anniversary. Scene of the party was the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence L. Smith on Green street. An afternoon of games was climaxed by the opening of her many gifts by the little celebrant and the serving of ice cream and birthday cake.

ALAMITOS AUXILIARY TO HAVE DANCE SATURDAY OCTOBER 30

The decision to sponsor a Hallowe'en costume dance on October 30 in the auditorium of the Laurel school was made at Wednesday night's meeting of the American Legion auxiliary. Proceeds will be used to carry on the activities of the unit.

Members of the post joined the auxiliary at the social hour when pumpkin pie and coffee were served by Mrs. Emma Robinson and Mrs. Mae Plummer, hostesses for the evening.

MRS. R. MUNDAY GIVEN A FAREWELL PARTY

Presentation of a lovely lavaliere and brooch was made to Mrs. Russel Munday by fellow members of the Los Alamitos firemen's auxiliary when she was honor guest at a farewell party which took place in the fire station. Mr. and Mrs. Munday are leaving to make their home on the Irvine ranch.

A social evening, concluding with the serving of ice cream and cake, was enjoyed. Participating in the courtesy were Mesdames Grace Johnson, August Labourdette, Albert Brown, Melvin Wakefield, Anna Watte, Bob Campbell, Harlen Huebert, Camile Pattyn, Carolyn Heying, Leo Layton, Fred Johnson and Leon Currie.

LOS ALAMITOS POST OFFICE SUFFERS SMALL LOSS FROM BURGLAR

Although desk drawers were ransacked and filing cabinets disarranged, thieves who entered the postoffice over the week-end made away with only three rolls of pennies, each containing 50 cents and a one dollar bill, according to a report made to sheriff's officers by Mrs. Blanche Dunn,acting postmaster. The safe and loose stamps had not been disturbed.

Deputies who investigated the case theorized that the intruder gained entrance by working a combination on a box adjoining the door and reaching his hand through was able to unlatch the door from the inside.

REVENUE PROVIDED FOR LAUREL SCHOOL AMOUNTING TO $50,000

Revenue from two sources was made available to Laurel elementary school district Tuesday when the board of supervisors authorized sale of tax anticipation notes in the value of $5000 to First National bank of Orange and bonds in the value of $45,000 to Weeden Company of Los Angeles.

The bank made the only bid on the notes, asking two per cent interest. The bonds went on a low bid of three per cent interest less a $459 premium, a total cost of $14,841 over a 15-year period. There were four other bids with the highest cost $16,273, Auditor Les M. Eckel said.

Tragedy Occurs As Child Is Killed By Father's Car

Henry Lucero Montoya, Jr., 20 months old, was crushed under the wheels of a car driven by his father, Henry Lucero Montoya, Sr., 25 of Los Alamitos, north of Florista street in the alley between Regan and Pine streets at 6:40 p.m. Tuesday.

Officers said the child apparently was riding on the running board of the car and fell to the ground when the father turned the car. The father took him to Artesia hospital where he died shortly after arrival.

Pasadena Sponsors Fall Flower Show

Entries for the ninth Southern California Fall Flower and Garden Show are beginning to pour in from all over the southland, it was announced recently by Glenn H. Hiatt, president of the sponsoring Pasadena Flower Show association.

Scheduled November fourth to seventh at Pasadena's Brookside Park, the show is the largest in the southland and one of the foremost floral events nationally. More than 500 cash prizes will be offered to private growers and amateurs, in addition to the association medals of gold, silver and bronze, awarded to exhibits of outstanding merit.

GARDEN HINTS

GARDEN CULTURE

The best time to plant Ranunculus and Anemones in California, and other southwestern States, is during October and November. Too early planting usually results in failure.

Tubers should be planted six to eight inches apart and covered with about one and one-half inches of soil. Ranunculus tubers are planted with "toes" pointed down.

Soil should be well drained sandy loam, preferably that has not been planted to Ranunculus the previous year. A small percentage of well rotted compost, or peat humus, should be worked into the soil to a depth of six inches, if the soil needs it. Before preparing the bed at planting time the ground should be thoroughly saturated so that it will contain enough moisture to sprout the tubers, as it is not desirable to sprinkle, or irrigate Ranunculus after they are planted until they are well up.

The tubers should not be soaked previous to planting, and if soil is prepared as above, soaking will not be necessary. Best germination is acquired by sprouting the tubers in a flat of clean sand. Cover about one inch and keep moist for a week, and at the end of that period most of the tubers will be sprouted and ready to plant. Any that are not sprouted can be left in the sand for another week.

When the Ranunculus leaves begin to appear above the ground, especially early in the season, they should be protected from garden pests, and especially birds, which like to nip tops as fast as they appear. Wire netting, or cheesecloth covering, until the leaves are several inches tall will prevent loss. Spraying the leaves with nicotine spray is also a good practice.

Water sparingly until the plants are well established, and they can use an abundance of water as long as there is good drainage. A complete fertilizer is probably best and it is a good rule to fertilize often, but not very much at a time. A light application of a good commercial fertilizer every two or three weeks is better than heavier application at any one time.

FREESIAS

The new Giant "Tecolote" Freesias have flowers three times the size of the old fashioned standard sorts. They also have finer colors and taller strong stems.

Freesias will grow anywhere in the garden but should have at least half the day in the sun. These bulbs naturalize easily and plantings increase in size from year to year. Old deserted homes in Southern California often present a fine patch of Freesias that come up with the rains every season, and receive no care whatsoever. The bulbs like to be neglected so that they can cure up well in the hot, dry, sun-baked soil during the summer months.

Planting season August until December. Plant Freesias in beds. Any good well tilled garden soil is suitable. Place bulbs two inches deep and three inches apart. Give plenty of water in the late fall and winter. Dry off in late spring.

IXIAS SPARAXIS AND BABY GLADIOLUS

Planting season August to December. These bulbs are planted just as you would Freesias, and also naturalize just as well. In fact they do best if they are planted in a location where they can be allowed to remain in the hot dry soil throughout the summer months, until watering is again begun in September.

TUBEROUS ROOTED BEGONIAS

The large size tubers will produce larger plants and more flowers. Smaller tubers also produce fine plants. Start tubers after February, first in a flat filled with a mixture of one-half sand and one-half leaf mold, or peat. Place tubers about two inches apart and only partially cover. Place the flat in a warm shaded place and keep slightly moist. Too much water causes rot at this stage.

As soon as the tubers have sprouted several inches, they should be potted into four-inch pots, five-inch if large tubers. Top of tuber should be level with top of soil. Use a soil mixture of two-thirds coarse leaf mold, or well rotted compost, and one-third sand and sandy loam top soil, plus the addition of a small amount of granulated charcoal and cotton seed meal, or bone meal. The tubers need a light, coarse well-mixed soil. When the plants need shifting into larger pots, use this same soil moisture.

Place pots in the lathouse, or shaded place under a tree. Slight shade, cool temperature and high humidity will produce the best plants. Plunging the pots in peat so that there will always be plenty of moisture present is recommended. It is a good idea to spray the plants morning and evening during the hot dry weather, using a very fine mist spray. Flower buds drop when humidity is low.

Fertilize every three weeks with liquid manure or cotton seed meal.

CALLA LILIES YELLOW, PINK AND BLACK

Any good fertile garden soil. Plant in light shade for best results. Bulbs of the Yellow or Pink Callas are available for planting from November until March. Best results if you treat them as a pot plant, planting after bulbs show sprouts, which is usually about January or February. The Black Calla should be planted in the fall.

WHITE CALLA—C. AETHIOPICA

These bulbs are most dormant during summer and fall, and should be transplanted then. After they start to grow and produce leaves they can use an abundance of water and fertilizer. Frequent applications of liquid manure during the winter months will produce more and larger flowers.

They can be planted, either in the semi-shade or full sun, with equally good results. They are very tender, and like a soil containing a lot of humus.

GLADIOLUS

Gladiolus will do fairly well in any soil, or location, but of course will produce their finest flowers if the soil is fairly fertile, and they are provided with plenty of water while growing.

Corms are available in November, but usually are not cured enough to plant until after late December. If planted earlier the corms will lay dormant in the ground until the proper season to grow.

Anaheim Boys To Exhibit At Co. Fair

Two Future Farmers of America, John and Pat Patin, of Anaheim, will show their 10-months old polled Hereford steers at the forthcoming Orange county fair.

The Patin brothers, students at Anaheim union high school, obtained the steers from Frank Vessel's Polled Hereford ranch. Both boys are members of the F.F.A. chapter at the high school. Joe Willmore, vocational agriculture teacher, is the leader of the chapter.

The Orange county fair opens at the fairgrounds in Anaheim on Thursday, October 28 and runs for four days, closing Sunday night, October 31.

WARRENS JOIN DEWEY — WARREN CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

Probably the busiest woman in Buena Park these days is Mrs. H. E. Warren.

She is the aunt of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and he is the Republican nominee for President whom she confidently expects to visit in the White House soon.

Mrs. Warren, and Mr. Warren too, joined the Buena Park Dewey-Warren Campaign Committee, pesonnel of which met here with Mrs. Lelia Eastman, chairman of the Dewey-Warren Campaign Committee for the county.

Fred R. Dukes is chairman of the local unit, with J. B. Sullivan, Edwin P. Hartwell, Les Renaker, C. N. Wilson, Herbert Grove and J. F. Sullivan, and the Warrens, members of the executive board.

Cliffie Stone's Band To Entertain At Orange County Fair

Judy Hayden, star girl vocalist with Cliffie Stone's Centennial Cavalcade of Western Stars, will sing her folk and western tunes with the band at the Orange County Fair, opening in Anaheim for four days, beginning October 28. Judy's latest Capitol record release, "He's a Real Gone Oakie," is one of the current best sellers.

The Centennial Cavalcade of Western Stars will feature Merle Travis, Eddie Kirk and Tennessee Ernie in addition to Miss Hayden, with a company of 14 people. The band will be the featured night attraction at the fair along with the square dance contests. The show will start at 8:00 nightly and will feature the greatest western and folk artists in America today in keeping with California's Centennial celebration theme.

There will be an entirely different show each night with vaudeville acts as well as the Cavalcade of Western Stars.

COMMERCIAL FISHING IS STATE'S FOURTH INDUSTRY

On the opening day of the sardine fishing season, commercial fishing, California's fourth largest industry, contributed 10,000,000 pounds of food to the nation's supply. The first boat in, unloaded a catch of 750,000 pounds.

The California fishing industry produces 75 per cent of the natural Vitamins A and D for the country and approximately 90 per cent of the fish meal used in commercial feeds to provide protein balance for livestock and poultry.

West Anaheim Fire Department Entertains With Turkey Dinner

The West Anaheim Fire Department, of which several local men are members, enjoyed a turkey dinner and program on Wednesday night, in the new fire house at Knotts.

With Ralph Scally as Master of Ceremonies, an interesting program was presented. Western songs were sung by Jerry Arnold who played his guitar as accompaniment. A group of pupils from Val Moore's school of Hawaiian dancing at Stanton, gave three types of native dances. Participating were the three McKee sisters, Mary, Marjorie and Pat, Betty Schachner, Barbara Lanker, Muriel Buehler, Carol Daniels and Becky Harris.

Special guests introduced were Willard Smith, chairman of the Orange County Board of Supervisors and fire committeeman, with his wife; James A. Baker, supervisor of this district, with Mrs. Baker; Joe Scherman, chief of the state Forestry division of Orange County; Delmar Osterman, Scherman's assistant and his wife; Ray Suess, fire inspector for Orange county and Mrs. Suess.

The three Knott employees who answer fire calls, were introduced with their families; Mesdames Nels Nelson, Jud Calico and Bert Birkinshaw (nee Virginia Morris.)

Enjoying the pleasant event were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hart and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hart and children, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Dohm and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heitchusen, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Abplanalp and daughters, Misses Virginia and Willa Abplanalp, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Almand and children, Mrs. Ted Siems and daughter Miss Betty Siems, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scally and son, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Finley, Harold Duff, Mrs. Florence Scott and daughters, Janice and Diane, Mrs. Fred Winters and son Paul and Mrs. Robert Cornett.

R. J. Borley, Leo Dunn and son, William, spent Sunday in Hemet.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knecht and two small children are spending two weeks visiting their respective parents in Lake Delvan, Wisconsin. While there, Mr. and Mrs. Knecht will be attendants at the wedding of the latter's sister.

Air Station To Hold Open House At Los Alamitos

In celebration of Navy Day this year, Los Alamitos Naval Air Station will hold open house for the public on Saturday, October 23, from one to four p.m. under the sponsorship of the Navy League.

This station has been selected to put on a large program with all other naval activities in the area contributing. The Fleet is sending units of its newest types of Navy combat planes, which, in addition to being displayed, will be flown in demonstrations. El Toro Marine Air Station is sending F80 jets and F7F night fighters. From San Diego will come FJI jets, FSF's, and Douglas ADI Sky Raiders. Lockheed Aircraft is flying a team of three miniature racing planes, one to be piloted by their famous test pilot Tony LeVier. These are the same planes that competed in the Goodyear Trophy Race at Cleveland this year. Stan Beltz, another internationally known flier, will give a repeat performance of his previous visit to the air station with a P2V-2 Neptune, sister ship of the Truculent Turtle. At that time he did a slow roll with one engine cut at an altitude of 100 feet! One hundred sixty planes based at the station will be operating as usual for the entertainment of the spectators in various carrier tactics. The entire air show will be televised for 2½ hours over KTLA.

MORE SAVED IN BONDS THIS YEAR THAN LAST

Southern California individuals invested $11,462,744.00 in Series E. U. S. Savings Bonds in September, an increase of $270,450.00 over the total of E Bond purchases in the corresponding month of 1947.

This report was made by J. B. Messick, of Los Angeles, state director of the Treasury's U. S. Savings Bonds Division, who also announced that investments in Series F and G Savings Bonds aggregated $4,186,444.00, bringing the grand total for last month to $15,649,189.00.

U. S. Savings Bond sales in Orange County totaled $4,434,226.46. Of the amount, $284,205 went into E Bonds, and $100,840 into F's and G's.

CARELESS CITIZENS

A motorist who is otherwise completely law-abiding does not realize that when he climbs into the driver's seat of an automobile he often becomes a criminal lawbreaker. His careless driving, points out the National Automobile Club, is marked by wanton speeding by schools, playgrounds, and business districts, and may someday accidentally kill an innocent person. "Slow" signs are placed in these districts for the purpose of safety. They are not to be ignored.

Supervisor Baker has aided in the attempt to secure every justifiable request from the Cypress district made upon the Board of Supervisors.

A FEW OF THE THINGS MR. BAKER HAS DONE FOR CYPRESS

- Graded and oiled several new streets.
- Maintained streets in good order.
- Aided in formation of Lighting District.
- Located a County Dump for Cypress area.
- Planning improvement of Walker Street, Ball Road, Katella Road, Hansen and others.
- Located fire station in Cypress.
- Planning sanitation improvements for area.
- Eradicated hog farm on Cerritos Ave.

HIS EXPERIENCE IS NEEDED

The grand total Annual Budget for this fiscal year of Orange County, which is directly within the control of the Board of Supervisors, is $15,010,238.00.

A business of this magnitude, the operation of which directly affects every voter within the County, should have on it's board of directors men of experience. This committee places its confidence in the incumbent, James A. Baker, who has had eight years experience in handling the affairs of the County as well as many years of experience in the operation of other successful enterprises. We therefore recommend your supervisor James A. Baker for reelection. "There is no substitute for experience."

During the recent months, RIGHT GUIDE has received numerous inquiries regarding G. I. Education. Here are a few of them with their answers which should help to clear up similar questions in the minds of other veterans.

A NEWLYWED VETERAN IN SCHOOL ASKS: "I got married last month. Will my increase in subsistence allowance start as of the date I was married "

ANSWER: A veteran's increased subsistence check will start as of the date he proves his claim. If this veteran has not yet done so, he should take a certified copy of his marriage record to the VA . . file his claim . . . and get the matter straightened out.

A FORMER NAVY MAN WRITES: "Is my certificate of eligibility for education under the G. I. Bill just as good today as when it was issued, even though it was issued some time ago?"

ANSWER: Yes, this veteran's certificate of eligibility is still good.

A MARINE VETERAN WANTS TO KNOW: I've lost the part-time job I had while I was attending school under the G. I. Bill. Am I entitled to collect readjustment allowances?"

ANSWER: No. So long as this veteran is receiving subsistence allowance as a student attending a school he cannot receive readjustment allowances.

THIS VETERAN ASKS: "I already have my degree which was attained not through the use of veterans benefits. However, I would like to take some specialized work. Can I do this under the G. I. Bill?"

ANSWER: Yes, this veteran can qualify for his first period of G. I. education regardless of previous training. Subsequent training periods must be approved by the VA. If this veteran is qualified in all other respects, he can go right ahead.

AN EX-G.I. WRITES: "I'm going to school under the G. I. Bill, but have been offered a very good temporary job. Would I lose any of my benefit if I quit school now and start in again in about a year?"

ANSWER: This veteran will lose no part of his educational benefit if he lets the VA know when he wants to interrupt his schooling.

ANOTHER VETERAN ASKS: "I can't spare the time to go to school on a full time basis or even part time, so I would like to take a correspondence course at home. How much subsistence payment will I get on this basis?"

ANSWER: Veterans taking correspondence courses under the G. I. Bill are not entitled to subsistence payments, if they are taking correspondence courses only.

The VA advises all veterans who have questions concerning their educational rights and privileges under the G. I. Bill to write or visit their nearest Veterans Administration office.

MEDICAL CARE FOR VETERANS: A total of 46,520 veterans received medical or surgical treatment as patients during fiscal year 1948 in the 12 Veterans Administration hospitals in the VA Branch 12 area (California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii.)

In addition, 22,546 veteran-patients were treated in Army, Navy and private hospitals where the Veterans Administration has beds under contract.

Out-patient treatment was provided by VA for 275,503 veterans with service-connected disabilities during the year. Physical examinations for compensation and pension, insurance and other purposes totaled 340,536.

The demand for medical treatment is increasing each year and is not expected to reach its peak until some time after 1975, VA reports.

Admission to VA hospitals is governed by a priority system, based on law and good medical practice. The priority classifications are:

1. Emergency cases are admitted immediately.

2. Second priority is given veterans suffering from service-connected disabilities. These are disabilities or diseases received or aggravated while the veteran was in service.

3. Last on the list are non-service connected cases, which do not require emergency treatment. These cases are admitted if they cannot afford to pay for hospitalization elsewhere. They must wait until a bed is available.

QUESTION: May I go to my own doctor for treatment of my disability and have Veterans Administration pay the bill?

ANSWER: Only if you receive prior VA approval for such treatment or care. Approval is based on the following conditions:

(1) You must have a service-connected disability; (2) VA must not be able to provide the treatment in its own hospitals or clinics; (3) Travel to a VA station would work a hardship on you. In emergency cases, a veteran may apply to the nearest physician and have the physician notify the VA regional office having jurisdiction over the area.

"I DIDN'T GET MY CHECK!"

Each month the Finance Division of the Los Angeles Regional office of the Veterans Administration processes and certifies for payment over 100,000 checks which represent approximately $7,500,000. This money is paid to veterans and their dependents in the Los Angeles area as subsistence allowance for those ex-service men and women in schools or training, compensation for disabled veterans, and pensions to veterans and their dependents. But, each month an average of 3,000 of those checks, $225,000, is returned to the treasury department unclaimed. This means someone who is counting on that money is saying, "I didn't get my check!"

WHY?

The principal reason for a check being returned is that the recipient of the benefit is not at the address and DID NOT notify the VA.

Every month the VA processes an average of 5,000 changes in address so that those who receive benefit checks will get them on time at their new addresses. Still, 3,000 veterans a month, don't bother to tell the VA about their change. The law prohibits the post office department from forwarding government checks in the mail, so even if a forwarding address was left at the old address the veteran would not get his check unless he notified the VA of the change.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU MOVE

If you change your address and DON'T notify the VA your check is returned to the treasury department and held for two years. If you cannot be located in that time the check is sent on to the General Accounting Office in Washington where it is held for an additional eight years.

If you move within the area of the Los Angeles Regional office of the VA and DO notify the VA of your change, it is a simple matter to register that change and insure uninterrupted service to you.

If you move outside the Los Angeles region, then you must expect a reasonable delay in the receipt of your check. This is due to the fact that various departments must register the change within the VA and your records forwarded by mail to the new VA office which will handle your account.

HOW CAN YOU HELP

If a veteran plans on moving, he should let the VA know about it as soon as possible. When sending this notice to the VA he should address it to; Veterans Administration, Los Angeles Regional Office, 1390 South Sepulveda Boulevard, Los Angeles 25, California. BE SURE to include the veteran's FULL NAME, the OLD address and the NEW address, his "C" number or his insurance number.

Garden Hints

(A service of the Orange County Nurserymen's Ass'n.)

HYACINTHS

Takes the same soil, preparation, planting and culture as Tulips.

IRIS (Bulbous)

The Dutch Iris bulbs offered by your dealer are nothing more than an improved strain of Spanish Iris. Many people still call them Spanish Iris.

Plant bulbs from October until December. Plant in full sun, or partial shade, four inches apart and four inches deep. Any good well tilled garden soil is suitable. Fertilize several times during growing season and keep well watered, soaking bed at least once a week.

After flowering encourage continued growth until plants normally start to die, the allow the bulbs to remain in the soil throughout their summer dormant season, as they will produce best results for several years if you do not move them.

LACHENALIA

Planting Season August until November. Lachenalias make their best showing when grown in pots or hanging baskets about five bulbs to a five-inch pot, plantedone inch deep. Soil, one-half sandy loam, one-half leaf mold, or the shady location where Tuberous Begonias were grown during the summer. Keep soil slightly moist until plants are well started, then they can be well watered regularly.

Leucocoryne Ixiodes Odorato (Glory of the Sun)

Planting Season August until December. For Southern California and other districts that do not have killing frosts, plant in full sun, using a sandy loam soil, well drained. Plant bulbs in a double row, about six inches deep, and two inches apart. Provide plenty of moisture and fertilization while growing.

If the bulbs are left undisturbed, they improve from year to year, and those that have been left in the ground for three years without being disturbed produce as many as eight flower stems per bulb in succession during the blooming season.

LILIES

Most Lilies do best in part shade, or filtered sunlight. These instructions cover L. Reglae, L. Sunset, L. Giganteum, L. Tigrinum, and any common sort usually offered by the trade.

Perfect and complete drainage is essential. They require a deep dug soil, containing lots of humus or leaf mold, and do best in a sandy soil. They require plenty of moisture while growing. Plant bulbs as soon as available, usually in October, November or December.

DAFFODILS OR NARCISSUS

Any good garden soil, in full sun or partial shade, is suitable. Planting season, September until December. Plant bulbs six to eight inches deep, and six to eight inches apart. Keep soil soaked as these bulbs require a cool and moist, fall and winter rooting season.

Fertilize several times during spring growing season, and after flowering encourage continued growth with water and fertilizer, as that is when the flower for the following season is produced and formed in the bulb. If leaves are cut off, or allowed to die too soon after flowering, there will not be any flowers the following season. Bulbs can be dug and replanted each fall, or allowed to remain in the same place for many years, until they become too crowded.

Naval Reserve Aptitude Tests In December

College aptitude tests for the selection of approximately 2300 candidates for 1949 college scholarships under the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program will be given on December 11, 1948.

Students selected will be given a four-year, government subsidized college education. The Navy Department pays for their tuition, books, and normal college fees and in addition, provides the student with a $50 a month living allowance.

The deadline for submitting applications for the tests will be November 15, 1948. Applications and information may be obtained from Donald Cruickshank, Boys Vice Principal. Senior boys and graduates between the ages of 17 and 20 are eligible.

NARCISSUS WATER CULTURE

Paper Whites, Soleil d 'Or and China Lilies, are all very satisfactory to grow in bowls for the home. Use any bowl you have, fill with rocks, sand or anything that will hold bulbs upright. Place bulbs about one inch apart in bowl and keep water up around the base of bulb. Keep in dark, cool place for six weeks, before placing in rooom, then provide place with most light. Too little light and too much heat will produce a lot of leaves and no flowers.

ORNITHOGALUM ARABICUM (Star of Bethlehem)

Plant September to December inclusive. These bulbs do best in full sun in any soil where there are no killing frosts. Allow to remain dormant in the dry soil throughout the summer, or dig and store in a warm dry shed.

TULIPS IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Good results with Tulips in Southern California depend upon a cool moist soil throughout the rooting season. So plant bulbs deep and water the bed often.

Plant bulbs in partial shade six to eight inches deep during October and November. Thoroughly soak the soil once a week. Mulch top of soil with manure or compost and fertilize several times during spring growing season.

Best results are obtained by placing the dry bulbs in your refrigerator for the month of October. Temperature is usually 40 to 50 degrees, which is satisfactory. After removing from refrigerator, plant the first part of November as above.

In cooler climates the proper rooting conditions of winter are naturally present and special treatment is not necessary.

STANTON

Mr. and Mrs. Conna Pollock their aunt, Mrs. Alta Liston who is visiting here from Jasper, Michigan and Mrs. William Dubbs have returned from a trip to Idaho. The Pollocks visited the former's brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. Roward Pollock in Boise while Mrs. Dubbs visited relatives and friends in both Nampa and Boise. Many side trips were made including the ghost town, Idaho City, and Sun Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freeborn left the early part of the week to visit relatives in their former home town of Santa Margarita.

Dick Tabatt, who enlisted in the army for a three-year term, has been assigned to the quartermaster's corps and is receiving his basic training at Fort Ord. After eight weeks' training, he expects to be transferred to Virgina to attend school.

CLUB ENTERTAINED BY MRS. JOHN COOKE

An autumnal theme was used by Mrs. John Cooke in her floral decorations and party appointments when she entertained on a recent evening at her home on Ball road. The evening was spent in playing bridge with Mrs. P. Hodgson of Brea capturing the prize for high score. Second high went to Mrs. Pete Pruett and third high to Mrs. Howard Minder of Costa Mesa. Mrs. George Payne was awarded the consolation prize.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Cooke in addition to the prize winners were Mmes. W. J. Hawkins and A. G. HOLD SERVICES IN STANTON FOR WAR HERO

The body of Guadalupe Orosco, 25, who was killed in action on Attu, Aleutian Islands, on May 12, 1943, has been returned home for burial. Holy Rosary was recited in the chapel of Honold Brothers mortuary in Garden Grove on Friday evening. Requiem mass was offered Saturday at 9 a.m. in Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic church in Stanton, with interment in Holy Sepulchre cemetery in Orange.

The decedent was born in Bellflower and lived in Stanton for 20 years. Surviving are three brothers, Cruz, Joe and Jesus Orosco, two sisters, Margaret and Beatrice Orosco, all of Stanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Girard Baldassarre are expecting the arrival of the latter's mother. Mrs. C. Allan Banford who has come west to care for her daughter who has been in poor health the past several months.

The birthday anniversary of Jack Rutledge was given special recognition when his wife invited a group of relatives to their home for dinner. Attending were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. King Rutledge; his daughter, Miss Carol Jane Rutledge; an aunt, Mrs. Katheryn Prigge visiting here from Denver; his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William Prigge of Whittier; a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis; a nephew, Don Davis, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Sabrino Muraoko.

Stanton Lady Lions Plan Card Party

The spacious new home of the Ed Faulkners on Western avenue, was the meeting place for the Lady Lions on Tuesday evening. Reports were made of the various activities which added $225 to the treasury. Plans were made to sponsor a public card party as a money making venture with the date to be announced later.

Although the place has not yet been selected, it was voted that the next meeting will be a dinner meeting. The birthdays of Winona Howland and Loita Landis were remembered during the refreshment interval.

TWO MEMBERS OF FAMILY CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS TOGETHER

The birthday anniversaries of Henry Lucas and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Perry Lucas, were jointly celebrated with a family party last Saturday evening, the surprise affair taking place at the Perry Lucas home in Lakewood.

An evening of visiting and watching the television was enjoyed, climaxed by the serving of birthday cake, ice cream and coffee. Both celebrants received a number of useful birthday remembrances.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Hunt and son, Bruce, Mrs. Ethlyn Johns and sons, Dennie and "Butch," Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lucas, all of Lakewood; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Rosser Williams of Buena Park; Mrs. Elmer McWilliams and Mrs. Bill Robins of Cypress.

Charles Moolick, who has been employed in the sugar factory in Betteravia, has returned home.

STANTON COUPLE SUES FOR DAMAGES SUFFERED IN ACCIDENT

Damages totaling $18,470.40 were demanded in superior court by LeRoy and Mary Ann Snow, who were injured in an automobile collision last May at 17 and Verano road west of Santa Ana.

Defendants named in the suit are Gerald Walker, driver of the other car, and Carroll B. Walker and Joshua Freeborn.

Snow claims he was driving west on 17th street when his car was struck by the machine driven by Walker. Mrs. Snow seeks $10,258.70 for injuries claiming a pregnancy at the time was complicated by the accident. The husband asks $4711.70 for his injuries and damages to his car, plus $3500 for the loss of his wife's companionship.

Mrs. J. S. Robison has returned home from a trip to Boston and New York. She was one of a group of members from the Anaheim First Church of Christ Scientist who made a vist to the Mother Church in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Godden, who have been living on Sycamore street moved to Anaheim today. Their residence will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fink and family, newcomers to Stanton.

George Kitchens is confined to his home on Hansen road, suffering from an infected eye.

MEMBERS OF CLUB HAVE "ABSENTEE" SHOWER

Mrs. Robert Clark entertained members of the Sunshine and Shower club on Thursday afternoon at her home on Winston road. The meeting also served as an "absentee" shower for Mrs. Dick Moolick of Tucson, Arizona, well known here and the daughter-in-law of Mrs. Charles Moolick, one of the members. The lovely layette articles were displayed before being wrapped and sent on to Tucson.

Since the monthly pot luck supper for the members, their families and guests, which is always held on the last Saturday evening of the month, will fall upon Hallowe'en this month, and the members want to attend the parade in Anaheim, the date was set up a week making it October 23 instead of the 30th.

A light luncheon was served by the hostess before departure. Attending the meeting were Mesdames Lewis McBratney, Charles Moolick, Milton Hasell, Will Thompson, John Maloney, Richard Yater, Roy Hudson, Connie Pollock, R. Miser, Elijah Briggs and Alta Liston.

Mystery packages were won by Mrs. Yater and Mrs. Liston.

Mrs. Annie Fredericks of Fredericks, Wisconsin is making an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Rockwell and other relatives in southern California.

What Does Our Future Hold?

Your job, your health, everything you own, the welfare of your children — and their very lives — depend on sound national government which charts a course for our nation to follow. . .

But in these years we have seen nothing but DISUNITY, DISCORD and DISTRUST in high places in Washington. We have seen the poor spectacle of an Administration without an apparent aim, without an apparent goal but to salvage what is left of a badly battered political machine. We have seen words broken and promises betrayed.

So we look to a team of men who can give sound government to this nation, who have proven themselves men of ACTION—Thomas E. DEWEY and Earl WARREN. Let us resolve to HELP THEM MEET THE CHALLENGE OF THE FUTURE.

LEWIS S. MARTIN PASSES AWAY

Mr. Lewis S. Martin of West Anaheim passed away Saturday morning in the Orange county hospital. He had been a resident of this community for the past six years making his home with his grandson, Mr. Virgil Still at 7302 E. Lincoln Avenue.

He was born in Arkansas March 9, 1871. Funeral services were held Monday morning at 11:00 o'clock from the Renaker Chapel with Reverend Paul Neerman officiating. The committal services were held in Graceland cemetery.

Shower Given For Mrs. Vernon Hawes

Mrs. Stan Doerr was hostess on Friday evening when she entertained in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Vernon Hawes, in the family home at 5401 Lincoln avenue. Many beautiful and useful articles were received by the honoree to add to her baby layette. Games suitable to the occasion were played with Mrs. Aliene Kelley, Mrs. Phyllis Hill of Santa Ana and Mrs. Jean Boeckler, of Anaheim, winning prizes.

The color scheme for the affair was beautifully carried out throughout the home with the placing of bouquets of dahlias in mixed colors of dainty pastel shades. Further carrying out the party theme were the attractive pink and white refreshments of ice cream molded in the shape of storks and white cake squares with pink frosting.

Attending the pleasant affair other than the prize winners, were Miss Margaret Garrett of Anaheim; Mrs. Christine Carden, Mrs. Charles Wise, Mrs. Earl Essex, Mrs. Evan Pugh, Mrs. Beatrice Hann, Mrs. Pat Arnold, Mrs. Russell Flynn, Mrs. Marie Shepard, Mrs. Christine Sidney, Mrs. Howard Decker, Mrs. Jennie Parker and Mrs. LaNiesta Swensen all of Cypress.

Not able to attend the party but sending a gift were the grandmother of the honoree, Mrs. E. M. Whitford of Santa Ana; an aunt, Miss Dorothy Doerr of Santa Barbara, another aunt, Mrs. Ray Underwood of Santa Ana; Miss Alice Wilkinson and Miss Jeanette Miller of Anaheim; Miss Delores Cardin, Mrs. Carolyn Reed and Mrs. Elmer McWilliams of Cypress.

Miss Mary Hunt of Lakewood is a guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McWilliams.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cawthon have returned home from a week's visit in Alamagordo, New Mexico, with their son-in-law, daughter and small grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ross and Billy.

Gift Shower Given In Appleby Home

Mrs. Jennie Cothron, grandmother to four children whose mother recently passed away, represented them at a "back-to-school" shower given by former sisters in the Rebekah lodge 285, of Artesia, of which the deceased was a member. The children, Barbara, 11; Roy, 10; Mark, 8 and Jimmie 6 of Hawaiian Gardens, were the recipients of many useful articles of clothng, when the affair was staged in the home of the noble grand, Mrs. Harold Appleby, 5562 Danny avenue, with Mrs. Jennie Parker and Mrs. Ernestine Adams assisting the hostess.

Mrs. Cothron, mother of Mrs. Gray, opened the packages, and remarks made by the various guests during the process were jotted and were combined into a clever story. Prize winners in the games played during the evening were Nelle Frampton, Vera Day, Flora Beebe and Evelyn Woods. Refreshments served by the hostesses ended the pleasant evening.

The guests were all members of the Artesia Rebekahs and included Vera Frietag, Vera E. Day, Geneva Bantwell, Frieda Murray, Madaline Gutnray, Mary Schnabel, Eva Long, Flora Beebe, Iva Elexon, Ethel Stine, Minta Riggs, Jennie Cothron, Nelle Frampton, Ida Thorpe, Evelyn Nielson, Margaret Buzzo, Vicky Milbourn, Aline Kelley, Dorothy Beason, Evie Junker, Grace Sonderleiter, Evelyn Wood, Virgnia Freeland, Oleta Gould, Ada Caldwell, Roxie Hendershot, Christa Christian and the hostesses.

Surprise Two With Baby Shower Gifts

Entertaining the members of her sewing circle on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Lucille Christopher, 5682 Vonnie Lane, was pleasantly surprised to find herself one of the honored guests when members and friends produced many interesting packages containing gifts for a baby shower. Also present, and equally surprised to have placed in front of her similar packages, was Mrs. Audrey Markel. After a pleasant hour spent in opening the presents, both agreed that the members, who are most of them very colse neighbors, had been very clever in keeping the social affair a secret.

Although the purpose of the club is to give an opportunity for sewing and chatting, the television, proved to be more interesting, and a musical program was thoroughly enjoyed. A delicious lunch served by the hostess ended the pleasant evening.

Those present in addition to the two honorees were Mesdames Ann Wedeking, Ruth Pugh, Virginia Sedia, Val Wilbur, Kathleen Loney, Virginia Daniel, Toddy Phillips, Marvis O'Leary, and Miss Beth Kroesen.

Mrs. Daniel will be hostess to the group at its next meeting, Tuesday, November second. Plans were made for a Christmas party in December, and Mrs. Phillips extended an invitation for the club to hold it in her home.

J. R. Decker, 9425 Grindlay, is confined to his home with a serious heart ailment.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Decker, who live at Walker and Orange, returned home on Saturday after several weeks spent in Arcola, Missouri, visiting her parents, and also a trip into Nevada deer hunting.

Mrs. Charles Arnold and daughter, Charlee, are making an extended visit with the Jerre Foutz' in Avenal. Mrs. Foutz is the aunt of Mrs. Arnold.

PASSING THOUGHTS

The life I've lived has been so full of hopes and other wishes
I'd like to go my own sweet way
just like the free-born fishes.
I'm not looking for wordly fame,
nor am I seeking money,
But fifty-one weeks of solid work, with rainy vacation—ain't funny.

FALSE PARTING

You smiled at me, and I at you,
As if the hour beguiling;
That they might see, our friends
so true,
Our careless sort of smiling.
That none might know of that gay throng,
Our parting was forever;
For there we parted with a song,
But not of hearts that sever.
Our true farewell had come before,
In one brief hour so gleaming.
You whispered, "It will soon be
O'er,
We've had our time of dreaming."

Kelley Picks McFadden For Supervisor Post

Haskell A. Kelley, who was eliminated from the race for supervisor in the Primary election chose Ralph McFadden as his candidate this week.

"I believe that Ralph is the best equipped man in the county to act on the ever-growing water problem and I also believe that he will give the third district a better business administration than it has had for years." That was the statement issued by the ex-merchant of Cypress who polled a heavy vote in this area in the Primary but failed to gain enough support in heavy population centers to stay in the race.

In commenting on Kelley's statement, campaign manager Phill Twombly emphasized the value of Kelley's support based on his personal following and popularity.

W. O. DeWitt is in Oregon visiting with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wellman. His family expects him home for Thanksgiving.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ringer, 9381 South Walker street, are the proud parents of a daughter, Irene, who was born on October 16 at Saint Mary's hospital in Long Beach. The baby weighed six pounds and seven ounces.

Employed recently as a presser for the Cypress cleaners and dyers, Edward Merriam is a resident of Bellflower. Mr. and Mrs. Merriman came to California from Boone, Iowa. She is the former Barbara Wheatcraft of Pilot Mound, Iowa.

R. L. Miles accidentally fell last Friday evening while helping the children into the school bus who attended the Teen-Canteen in Anaheim and injured his wrist and upper arm. Relief driver, Arnold Pape, has been driving the school bus this week.

Mrs. W. J. McCoid, 5542 Camp street, prepared a family dinner last Sunday to honor the birthday of her daughter, Doris, although the actual anniversary date was not until later in the week. Present besides the McCoid's were Doris' husband, George Konig and their daughter, Sandra, and Mrs. and Mrs. Gene Kelley and daughter, Sheryl.

Sergeant and Mrs. Gene Vaughn, 5601 Vonnie Lane, are the happy grandparents of a baby granddaughter, Louise Leigh, born to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie L. Hamlin, of Roanoke, Virginia, on Saturday morning. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hamlin, Sr., also of Roanoke.

Mrs. George Underwood was hospitalized on Tuesday afternoon at the Naval hospital in Long Beach, where she will remain as a medical patient for the next few days. Sergeant Underwood was called from manuevers at Camp Pendleton. The couple have a small son and the family lives on Cypress avenue.

Having arrived recently from their former home in Yardley, Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Minner visited in the home of their son, S. R. Minner and family, 5551 Camp street, for a few days. They have now obtained living quarters in Santa Ana, where Minner has secured a position, and will make southern California their home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Boeckeler attended Cliffie Stone's barn dance in Placentia last Saturday evening.

RALPH J. McFADDEN

FOR SUPERVISOR
THIRD DISTRICT

Ralph McFadden will bring to the Third District:

- ★ Stronger representation
- ★ Better allocation of County funds — no subservience to other Districts.
- ★ Reduction in the cost of County government. The cost of County offices and departments have variously increased from 80 to 703% since 1938-39.
- ★ Action on critical water problems now facing Orange County.
- ★ Bring about a study to allow truck traffic to bypass urban areas.
- ★ Work for closer cooperation between County and local planning commissions.

By his services as past President of Associated Chambers of Commerce, past President of Orange County Farm Bureau, director of County Highways Commission, and director of Orange County Water District, RALPH McFADDEN is fully qualified to carry out the above program. A vote for McFADDEN is a vote for better government.

LANDSCAPES AIR CONDITIONED

Planning the home and locating it to take best advantage of prevailing climatic conditions is coming in for considerable attention these days. But what about those who have no choice in the matter?

Assume, for instance, the home is located in such a manner that the breezes in the summer and the winds in the winter come generally from the same direction. Access to the cooling breezes is desired during the warm months, while protection from the colder winds is desired for the wintertime.

Louvre Fences

A natural impulse would seem to be to build a wall or fence; but the problem remains: How to air condition it to accomodate both situations? Among other innovations in such design recently has been the advent of a louvre type fence with adjustable slats. In other words, it works similar to a Venetian blind.

The slats on this fence are generally constructed so they stand vertically with opening and closing movements in a lateral direction. The advantage here is that when slightly open to afford wind circulation, the screen affords more visual privacy than if the slats were constructed on a horizontal pattern.

New-type awnings for terraces and porches now provide for more circulation of air also. These are constructed of aluminum, with the slats alternating on either side of the supporting piece in such manner as to overlap enough to keep out downcoming moisture. Yet, the supporting pieces are sufficiently wide to allow ample space between the slats for air release.

If you are faced with weather conditioning problems, look about and survey some of these ideas for overcoming many of the undesirable outdoor conditions.
